NOTES IN SEASON.

T. B. PETERSON & BROS. have published, in paper covers, a translation of Zola's "Mysteries of Marseilles."

HENRY HOLT & Co. will issue at once an attractive edition of Heine's "Book of Songs," at the low price of 75 cents.

THE FOWLER & WELLS Co. have just ready Emily Faithfull's volume, entitled "Three Visits to America," an interesting and attractive description of our country, our people, institutions, etc., by a keen critical observer.

IGNATZ KÖHLER, Philadelphia, announces a new illustrated edition of Heinrich Heine's works, which, it is claimed, will unite all the qualities to be most desired in such a book, whether for the library or for the parlor table.

D. APPLETON & Co. issue to-day "Lectures on the Principles of Surgery," delivered at Bellevue Hospital Medical College, by the late Dr. W. H. Van Buren, edited by Dr. Lewis A. Stimson; "Bell's Electric-Speaking Telephone," its invention, construction, application, modification, and history, by George B. Prescott; "How we Live, or the human body, and how to take care of it," an elementary course in anatomy, physiology, and hygiene, by James Johonnot and Eugene Bouton; "At the World's Mercy," a new novel by the author of "The House on the Marsh;" the third part of Admiral Porter's novel, "Allan Dare;" "Book of Cats and Dogs and Other Friends for Little Folks," by James Johonnot; a new volume in their series of Instructive Reading-Books; and "A Compend of Geology," by Joseph Le Conte, the third volume in their new series of Science Text-Books.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. have now ready the first volume of "Montcalm and Wolfe," by Francis Parkman, a work which forms the seventh part of the series of Historical Narratives, "France and England in North America." The period covered is that between 1748 and 1763, and a large amount of unpublished material has been used in its preparation, chiefly from the archives and libraries of France and England. Portraits of Montcalm and Wolfe, and nine maps, specially engraved for the work, enhance its value. The second volume will be published next month. They have also just ready the second and concluding volume of "The Water Birds of North America," by Spencer F. Baird, T. M. Brewer, and R. Ridgway; "Studies in Wordsworth, Culture and Aquirement, Ethics of Tragedy, and Other Papers," by Henry N. Hudson, the well-known Shakespearian scholar and critic; and a fine edition of Bacon's "Essays and Wisdom of the Ancients," printed from pica type, on clear white paper, and handsomely bound.

A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON will publish next month, by arrangement with Mr. Unwin, of London, a unique book of interest to bibliographers in the shape of a small "Biblia Pauperum," with thirty-eight woodcuts produced from mediæval blocks, purchased about seventy years since in Nuremberg. These blocks are not recognized as having been used for any known book, and probably the volume for which they were prepared was never issued; but it is curious that a block-book of the fourteenth or fifteenth century should make its first appearance in the nineteenth. They will also issue next month, by arrangement with Macmillan & Co., Mr. Ainger's edition of Charles Lamb's "Plays and Miscellaneous Essays and Poems." This volume will contain all of Lamb's miscellaneous writings that he had himself selected for preservation in a permanent form, and whatever else in the shape of new materials Mr. Ainger has derived from Lamb's annotations to George Wither, his interleaved copy of which is now in the possession of Mr. Swinburne. This edition will also contain quotations from several unpublished letters of Lamb.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.
 Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (ato: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obi., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Adams, W. H. Davenport. The land of the Incas and the city of the sun: the story of Francisco Pizarro and the conquest of Peru. Bost., Estes & Lauriat, 1885 [1884]. 3-256 p. il. O. cl., $1.50.

The author of "Page, squire and knight," though he acknowledges having made use of the best sources and authorities for information, claims that in some respects his book will be found a new and independent narrative; he presents an entirely new view of the character of Pizarro, of whom he says he "can find no proof of the ferocity and treachery of which he has so freely been accused." The story of the conquest of Peru has many romantic and picturesque points, to which the author has done full justice. The style is simple and popular, and the text fully illustrated with page pictures. A good addition to the library, and a book that young people can understand and enjoy.

Alger, Horatio, jr. Do and dare; or, a brave boy's fight for fortune. Phil., Porter & Coates, [1884]. 303 p. il. S. cl., $1.25.

Boys may learn a lesson from the brave struggles of Herbert Carr to support his widowed mother, and find amusement in his numerous ups and downs, and strange adventures before fortune smiles on him. He begins business life in a village store, meets a warm friend in a rich young man in ill health who needs a companion, and goes with him to Colorado. Herbert makes enemies as well as friends, but overcomes all obstacles in a brave, manly way that is very pleasant to read about.

Banks, Mattie B. The children's summer. N. Y., Rob. Carter & Bros., 1884. 3-449 p. i. il. S. cl., $1.25.

An account of what five little girls accomplished in the way of doing good. In their vacation time, with the aid of a lady who loves them, they form themselves into a club with the name "Vacation Club," and the motto "Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love;" they not only do good deeds to the poor and sick, but cultivate charity and love for each other.

Bell, Lowthian. Principles of the manufacture of iron and steel; with some notes on the economic condition of their production. N. Y., D. Van Nostrand, 1884. 744 p. pl. O. cl., $6.

Belot, Adolphe, and Villetard, Edmund. Le testament de César Girodot: comédie en trois actes, en prose. Nouvelle édition. N. Y., W: R. Jenkins, 1884. 98 p. D. (Théâtre contemporain, no. 11.) pap., 25 c.

Black, W: Judith Shakespeare: her love affairs and other adventures. N. Y., G: Munro, [1884]. 70 p. Q. (Seaside lib., no. 1893.) pap., 20 c.

Bourke, J: G. The snake dance of the Moquis of Arizona; being a narrative of a journey from Santa Fé, New Mexico, to the villages of the Moqui Indians of Arizona; with a description of the manners and customs of this peculiar people, and especially of the revolting religious rite—the snake dance—to which is added a brief dissertation upon serpent worship in general, with an account of the tablet dance of the Pueblo of Santo Domingo, New Mexico, etc. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1884. Pl. O. cl., $5.

Boyle, Mrs. E. V. Days and hours in a garden; with vignette by the author. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1884. S. cl., $2.

Brodie, Emily. The sea-gull's nest; or, Charlie's revenge. N. Y., Rob. Carter & Bro., [1884]. 2-124 p. il. S. cl., 60 c.

A little story of "showing good for evil." Charlie Cole dislikes and envies Leslie Harcourt because he has done him a slight injury and is better provided than himself with this world's goods; his revenge consists in saving Leslie's life, almost lost in climbing a cliff to rob a sea-gull's nest.

Brown, Mrs. Helen E. A good catch; or, Mrs. Emerson's whaling cruise. Phil., Presb. Bd. of Pub., [1884]. 3-300 p. il. S. cl., $1.15.

Mrs. Emerson and her little daughter Minnie accompany Captain Emerson on a whaling cruise of four years in the ship Caledonia; the book describes the incidents of the voyage and the sights they see; the main object of the story is to depict how the "quiet, unconscious influence of a Christian woman and an innocent, loving child led a wayward boy to repentance and a better life."

Brown, R. Warren, ed. Great events of the world in poetry and prose; arranged chronologically. Bost., Estes & Lauriat, 1884. 9+302 p. il. O. cl., $2.50.

Consists of historical poems by celebrated authors, preceded by a narration in prose of the event or events which the poem sings of; each episode is illustrated by a full-page picture; gotten up in holiday style on tinted paper and in a richly gilded binding.

Browne, T. M. Dorothy: a tale. N. Y., T: Whittaker, 1885 [1884]. 225 p. il. D. cl., $1.

Dorothy Rivers is a young lady whose mother, dying in the child's infancy, left her in the sole care of her father. They led a quiet, uneventful life until Mr. Rivers, who was confidential clerk to a banker, was falsely accused of forgery. Rupert Vaughan, a young lawyer, succeeded not only in establishing Mr. Rivers's innocence, but of bringing proof sufficient to implicate Vera Bolden, the banker's son. Although this young man seemed to escape his merited punishment, "there are a thousand ways in which men pay their penalties for the past which are unseen and unknown save to themselves." Young Vaughan reaps his reward by gaining Dorothy's love.

Butterworth, Hezekiah. Zigzag journeys in Acadia and New France: a summer's journey of the Zigzag Club through the historic fields of the early French settlements of America. Bost., Estes & Lauriat, 1885 [1884]. 4-320 p. il. O. (The zigzag ser.) cl., $2.25 bds., $1.75.

A narrative of travel through the portion of America named in the title, in which is woven some information regarding the history, geography, and political condition of each country, the whole illustrated with stories, legends, and many pictures. Uniform in general arrangement to the previous "Zigzag" books.

Butterworth, Hezekiah. Poems for Christmas, Easter, and New Year's. Bost., Estes & Lauriat, 1885 [1884]. 8+153 p. il. O. cl., $4.

A handsome octavo volume, printed on richly tinted paper, with gilt edges, and embellished with numerous full-page il. and many graceful head- and tail-pieces.

Cameron, Mrs. H. Lovett. A north country maid: a novel. N. Y., Harper, 1884. 74 p. Q. (Harper's Franklin sq. lib., no. 409.) pap., 20c.

The story of a pretty girl, the daughter of a poor vicar in Cumberland, whose grandmother, Lady Dungarron, gives her a season in London; the grandmother is a hard-hearted worldly woman, who by specious arguments and threats forces the poor girl into a marriage with an utterly disreputable man.

* In this list, the titles generally are verbatim transcriptions (according to the rule of the American Library Association) from books received. Books not received are indicated by a prefixed asterisk, and this office cannot be held responsible for the correctness of their record. This list will be reprinted, verbatim, with all the notices of the books received, in the TRADE LIST ANNUAL.

utable but wealthy peer. There is nothing new in the plot, but the story is cleverly told and the characters well-delineated. By the author of "Juliet's guardian," "Deceivers ever," etc.

Champney, Lizzie W. Three Vassar girls in South America: a holiday trip of three college girls through the Southern continent, up the Amazon, down the Madeira, across the Andes, and up the Pacific coast to Panama; il. by "Champ," and others. Bost., Estes & Lauriat, 1885 [1884]. 5-239 p. il. O. cl., $2; bds., $1.50.

Conceived on the same plan as the other "Vassar" books; full of illustrations, the lining covers having each a map of South America upon it.

Clarkson, L. The shadow of John Wallace: a novel. N. Y., White, Stokes & Allen, [1884]. 418 p. D. cl., $1.

Robert Browning's "The ring and the book" seems to have been the source of the author's inspiration; he quotes from it, and makes it his text throughout, every chapter being headed with a verse from the poem. The story is one of mystery that remains unsolved; it takes place in a little village on Long Island, and covers the last forty years. "John Wallace" comes there unknown, and the reader is led to suppose his name is assumed, and that he is the hero of a sad and tragical domestic story. A "ring" and a "book" play a part in his history, and form part of the decoration of the binding.

Cooper, Alfred. Syphilis and pseudo-syphilis. Phil., P. Blakiston, Son & Co., 1884. 355 p. O. cl., $3 50.

Daily strength for daily needs; selected by the editor of "Quiet hours." Bost., Roberts Bros., 1884. 3+372 p. T. cl., $1.

Bible texts, a verse, and a prose selection, all of a helpful character, for every day in the year. A dainty little book with red edges. Index of authors.

Dennison, G. Ambrose. Songs and lyrics. N. Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1884. 93 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Desty, Robert. The American law of taxation, as determined in the courts of last resort in the United States. V. 2. St. Paul, West Pub. Co., 1884. 76+611-1477+91 p. O. shp. net, $5.50.

Dickens, C. The loving ballad of Lord Bate-man; il. by G. Cruikshank. [Anon.] Bost., Roberts Bros., 1884. D. cl., $1.75.

Dickens, C. The ivy green; il. in colors by Clara Goodyear. Bost., Estes & Lauriat, [1884]. No paging, O. pap. fringed, $1.75.

Eight colored illustrations of "A dainty plant is the ivy green;" in a dark green cover, with a silk fringe and cords of a lighter green.

Dodge, Mrs. Mary Mapes, comp. Baby world: stories, rhymes, and pictures for little folks; compiled from St. Nicholas. N. Y., The Century Co., [1884]. 15+303 p. il. sq. O. cl., $2.

Some of the very best pictures and text that have appeared in St. Nicholas are collected in this volume; it is a perfect treasure house of amusement. Even the grown people will enjoy its artistic and humorous illustrations and witty reading matter. A few of the old favorites of "Baby Days," which is now out of print, have been retained for this book. Embellished with a pretty colored frontispiece, "On Christmas day in the morning."

Domett, H. W. History of the Bank of New York, 1784-1884. 2d ed. N. Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1884. 143 p. il. O. cl., $3.

Dunning, Mrs. A. K. How it came about. Phil., Presb. Bd. of Pub., [1884]. 204 p. il. S. cl., 85 c.

Shows how extended is the influence of a good life. Ethel Martin, from a spinal trouble, never learned to walk, but spent her brief life in the seclusion of her room. Her beauty of character affects all that come in contact with her; and her charities are felt near and wide; the seed she sows in her lifetime bears fruit after her death in most substantial form to her poor and those she loved.

Eldersheim, Alfred. The life and times of Jesus the Messiah. 2d ed. N. Y., A. D. F. Randolph & Co., [1884]. 2 v. 4-35+695; 10+826 p. O. cl., $6 (corr. price).

Edwards, Miss Betham. Doctor Jacob. N. Y., G. Munro, [1884]. 56 p. Q. (Seaside lib., no. 1891.) pap., 20 c.

Faithfull, Emily. Three visits to America. N. Y., Fowler & Wells Co., [1884]. 16+400 p. D. cl., $1.50.

A record of three visits paid by Miss Faithfull to this country for the purpose of studying our society, our industrial methods and organizations, in behalf of poor and unfortunate English women. Sketches of conversations occur all through the book, most of them with well-known people, all of whom cordially aided Miss Faithfull toward the attainment of her mission. It is pleasant to read her lively comments on such persons as Charles Sumner, Julia Ward Howe, Professors Coit Tyler and Maria Mitchell, George W. Childs, Charlotte Cushman, John Taylor the Mormon President, Thurlow Weed, and the hundred others she met.

Fenn, G. Manville. The silver cañon: a tale of the western plains. N. Y., C. Scribner's Sons, 1884. 6+341 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

Dr. Lascelles, an English physician who had spent some years in New Mexico raising cattle, determines to give up his farms and go further into the wilds of New Mexico in search of silver, as the Indians by their depredations have made him a poor man. Taking his daughter Maud, a young man Bart Woodlaw, and four half-breeds, he starts on his expedition, the party being well equipped with guns, horses, etc. The story is one of wild adventure with the Indians and wild animals, interspersed with descriptions of the mineral wealth of the west, its forests, deserts, geysers, etc., ending with the wonderful discovery of the silver cañon, which brings wealth to all the party.

Festival poems: a collection for Christmas, the New Year, Easter. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1884. 10+386 p. T. cl., $1.25.

Selected from the best writers of all times; dainty book with red edges. Index of authors. Index of first lines.

Fields, Adele M. Pagoda shadows; or, studies from life in China; with introduction by Jos. Cook. Bost., W. G. Corthell, 1884. 285 p. il. D. cl., $1.

Fisher, Pearl. The harvest of the city and the workers of to-day; with an introduction by H. Sinclair Paterson, M. D. N. Y., Rob. Carter & Bros., [1884]. 5+252 p. il. D. cl., $1.25.

Sketches of the many missionary societies that are at present grappling with the evils of "outcast London;" their various forms and the various directions in which they work are ably set forth, while a sad and terrible picture is presented of the dreadful scenes and characters they encounter. The causes of the vice and distress are entered into, and the encouraging results of the mission work stated.

Fiske, J. The destiny of man viewed in the light of his origin. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1884. 119 p. S. cl., $1.

An address delivered before the Concord School of Philosophy this summer; it embodies an epitome of the author's original contributions to the doctrine of evolution, and his reasons for believing in the immortality of the soul.

Frost, A. B. Stuff and nonsense. N. Y., C. Scribner's Sons, 1884. 4-92 p. il. Q. bds., $1.50.

A series of most comical pictures with most absurd text; there is a hearty laugh in every page, absolutely free from any sting or bitterness. Many jolly moments may be derived from its contents. In a characteristic cover.

Froude, Ja. Anthony. Thomas Carlyle: a history of his life in London, 1834-1881. N. Y., C. Scribner's Sons, 1884. 7+392+7-417 p. D. cl., $1.50.

This volume, which embraces the two volumes of the London edition, carries the reader down to Carlyle's death in 1881, and abounds in caustic pen portraits of his contemporaries, and details of his life in London, from the time he began to write his "History of the French Revolution." The work does not lend any additional lustre to Carlyle's character as a man, but emphasizes his intense selfishness, vanity, and bitterness. Mr. Froude in an "introductory" defends himself against the criticisms made upon his manner of discharging the functions of a literary executor. He reiterates Carlyle's own wishes with regard to him writing his life, and narrates in a couple of chapters in the body of the book the incidents in connection with Carlyle's delivery to him of Mrs. Carlyle's "Letters and memorials." Index.

Garden (The) of the heart. Bost., Estes & Lauriat, 1884. In the shape of a heart, lithographed covers, $1; fringed, $1.25.

A heart-shaped souvenir, mounted on a gilt rod, with silken cords and tassels for hanging up; contains a number of leaves with ornamental red borders, with selections of religious poetry.

Gardner, E. C. Homes and all about them. Bost., Ja. R. Osgood & Co., 1885 [1884]. 5-710 p. il. D., $2.50.

The three books that make up this volume—viz., "Homes and how to make them," "Home interiors," and "Illustrated homes" have long been out of print; they are now issued in one volume to meet a demand for a popularly written and practical treatise on home building and furnishing; they are issued in a cheaper form than formerly, and have been thoroughly revised and corrected.

Garvock, Blanche A. L. Joyful through hope: a story. N. Y., Rob. Carter & Bros., [1884]. 2+340 p. r il. D. cl., $1.50.

Arthur Wise, the rector's son, who has cherished hopes for years of becoming a clergyman, has had suddenly a dreadful blow dealt to him; he is, it is thought, invalidated for life. His whole life after this great trial is a beautiful example of being "joyful through hope." He follows the advice of some friends, who recommend a special treatment, and recovers sufficiently to complete his studies and gain his heart's desire.

Ginn, F. B. Addition manual, by which addition is memorized, and the sum or difference of any two numbers known at sight. Bost., Ginn, Heath & Co., 1884. 4+21 p. T. pap., 20 c.

Guernsey, Lucy Ellen. Loveday's history: a tale of many changes. N. Y., T. Whittaker, 1885 [1884]. 10+366 p. D. (Historical stories.) cl., $1.50.

Loveday Coubet tells the story of her own life and adventures; she lived in London during the sixteenth century, toward the end of Henry VIII.'s reign; as a child she entered the Dartford nunnery as a novice, and witnessed the breaking up of the sacred shrines and vestments, and the driving into the streets of the sisters; she describes old London perfectly and the religious dissensions of the period.

Hays, Mrs. W. J. Castle Comfort: a story for children. N. Y., T. Whittaker, 1885 [1884]. 175 p. D. r il. cl., $1.

The name of a lovely old country house, which was presided over by a model maiden lady, who had rescued a family of small nieces and a nephew from a most unchildlike atmosphere. The mother of the family being an invalid, the children were left to the tender mercies of a very austere and dignified governess until the advent of Aunt Pam, who carried them all off on a visit to the country. She proved such a contrast to their governess, and they liked her house so much, that they called it "Castle Comfort."

Heine, H. Book of songs; tr. by C. G. Leland. New cheap ed. N. Y., H. Holt & Co., 1884. S. cl., 75c.

Hitchcock, E. Manual of the gymnastic exercises as practised by the junior class in Amherst College, Amherst, Mass. Bost., Ginn, Heath & Co., 1884. 57 p. D. pap., 30 c.

Prepared under the direction of the Professor of Hygiene and Physical Education in Amherst College. The object of the manual is to furnish a series of exercises, by the use of which a teacher can directly instruct a class in light gymnastics. There is also given a series of simple military movements that may be made by a class or company of from twenty to a hundred—male or female—either in a small out-of-doors area, or in an ordinary hall.

Hodder, Edwin. Simon Peter: his life, times, and friends. N. Y., Cassell & Co., 1884. 7+324 p. D. cl., 1.50.

A popular biography of Simon Peter, "the disciple of the Lord," as recorded in the Gospels. The scheme of the work is found in the following paragraph: "To understand the outward life of Simon Peter it is necessary to know something of his early training, the state of the country in which he dwelt, the civil and religious institutions of the times, the people with whom he came in contact, and other kindred subjects; while to understand his inner life, and watch his spiritual growth and development, it is necessary to trace it through the stages of home education, the discipline of school and daily life, the influence of friends and companions, the discipleship of John the Baptist, and the discipleship of Christ."

Hoppin, A. Two Compton boys; with 93 il. by the author. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1885 [1884]. 5-159 p. sq. O. cl., $1.50.

A very humorous story by the author of the widely known juvenile, "Recollections of Auton house," and the popular novel, "A fashionable sufferer." The adventures of Richard Lyon Reydon and his African playmate, Pizzaro Fitts, or, as their schoolmates nicknamed them, "Duck" and "Peas," are told in a most laughable manner; the caricatures of the boys as well as those of the other prime movers in the story, are decidedly amusing.

New edition, in a different form, of a popular juvenile; il. with numerous full-page pictures, and in a bright boards cover.

James, H. Tales of three cities. Bost., Ja. R. Osgood & Co., 1884. 2+359 p. D. cl., $1.50.

Includes "The impressions of a cousin," "Lady Barberrina," and "A New England winter." The first gives a vivid picture of a young English girl's impressions of New York fashionable society and of New York city. The second opens in London, of which it gives one of Mr. James's most graphic sketches; the heroine is a noble English girl who marries a wealthy American, and comes to live in New York. The third has its scene laid in Boston. They are all excellent examples of Mr. James's finished analytical style.

Johnson, Helen Kendrick, comp. Illustrated poems and songs for young people. N. Y., G. Routledge & Sons, [1884]. 5-308+15 p. il. O. cl., $2; bds., $1.50.

- Meade, L. T. The children's pilgrimage. N. Y., T. Whittaker, 1885 [1884]. 6+358 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.
Cecile and Maurice D'Albert are the orphan children of a French father and Spanish mother; on the death of the children's mother D'Albert brings his children to England, where he meets and marries the second Mrs. D'Albert. Two years after this second marriage he died; his second wife did not survive him very long, but before her death she imposes upon Cecile the task of finding her own long-lost daughter; this brave child had a great many hardships to battle with, and she and Maurice had a long, weary pilgrimage, but she finally accomplished her object, finding the lost Lovedy, and gaining a happy home in a quiet little Normandy farm. The story demonstrates how much we can accomplish if we believe in the guidance of a higher power.

A new and complete edition of Poe's works, printed from new plates; the type is large and clear, and the paper particularly good. It contains a new portrait of Poe (the latest taken from life), etchings from original designs by Gifford, Church, Platt, Pennell, Vandenhoff, and other artists; also fac-similes of letters, autographs, mss., etc. All his poems and prose tales will be found here with his essays, critical papers, "Eureka," "Marginalia," etc.; also a paper by Stoddard on "The genius of Poe," and essays by Lowell and Willis; Poe's essays on "The poetic principle," "The rationale of verse," etc.
- *Pyle, Howard. The merry adventures of Robin Hood of great renown in Nottinghamshire; written and illustrated by Howard Pyle. [New ed.] N. Y., C. Scribner's Sons, 1884. Q. cl., reduced to $3.
- Rideing, W. H. Young folks' history of London. Bost., Estes & Lauriat, 1884. 493 p. D. cl., $1.50.
Mr. Rideing has made use of both history and fiction in the compilation of this interesting work. Dickens, Scott, Walter Besant, Mrs. Crosland's "Stories of the city of London," Thornbury and Walford's "Old and new London," Hare's "Walks about London," Macaulay's "Miscellaneous essays," "Lombard Street," by Walter Bagehot, Green's "Short history of England," and "The making of England" have all been laid under contribution to add to the value and attractiveness of this volume. Either in quotations, or in an abridgment of the original matter, the story of the many wonders of London, past and present, its splendor, poverty, and crime, its historical and literary associations is told with the aid of numerous pictures. Excellent reading matter for young and old.
- *Rindfleisch, E., M.D. The elements of pathology; tr. from the 1st German ed. by W. H. Mercur, M.D.; rev. by Ja. Tyson, M.D. Phil., P. Blakiston, Son & Co., 1884. D. cl., $2.

- *Snyder, W. L. The notaries' and commissioners' manual, cont. full instructions as to their appointment, powers, rights, and duties, under New York and federal laws, with forms, fees, etc. N. Y., Baker, Voorhis & Co., 1884. 6+82 p. O. bds., $1.
- Sophocles. Antigone; ed. on the basis of Wolff's edition by Martin L. D'Ooge. Bost., Ginn, Heath & Co., 1884. 2+192 p. D. (College series of Greek authors.) pap., $1.
- Stebbing, Grace. Gold and glory; or, wild ways of other days: a tale of early American discovery. N. Y., T. Whittaker, 1885 [1884]. 8+35 p. il. D. cl., $1.50. An historical romance of the Spanish inquisition, giving a graphic account of how the people were forced to seek exile because of the crimes that were committed for "gold and glory;" it also gives an interesting account of the Spanish refugees in America.
- Stebbing, Grace. In Wiclif's days; or, a safe hiding place. N. Y., Rob. Carter & Bro., [1884]. 3-192 p. il. S. cl., $1. The story opens in the library at Denham Old Hall. The grandmother of the family and her grandchildren are assembled. Ralph, the eldest boy, a scholar of Balliol, finds an old manuscript, one of the first biographies of Wiclif ever written. The author of this work is the grandfather of the family, Henry Fert Denham. The children are so interested in the subject of the great reformer that they press the old lady to tell them all she knows of Wiclif, which she does; she also relates to them the history of one of their ancestors, Henry Fert Denham, who was burned to death in Wiclif's cause.
- Stories by American authors, no. 7. N. Y., C. Scribner's Sons, 1884. 179 p. S. cl., 50 c. Contents: "The bishop's vagabond," by Octave Thannet; "Lost," by E. Bellamy; "Kirby's coals of fire," by Louise Stockton; "Passages from the journal of a social wreck," by Margaret Floyd; "Stella Grayland," by Ja. T. McKay; "The image of San Donata," by Virginia W. Johnson.
- Stormonth, Rev. Ja. Dictionary of the English language, pronouncing, etymological, and explanatory. In 23 pts., pt. 9. N. Y., Harper, 1884. 449-504 p. Q. (Harper's Franklin sq. lib., no. 410.) pap., 25 c. See notice under pt. 1, P. W., "Weekly Record," Aug. 30, 1884 [657].
- Sturgis, Julian, ed. My friends and I. N. Y., H. Holt & Co., 1884. 8+221 p. S. (Leisure hour ser., no. 159.) cl., $1; pap., 25 c. Gives three pictures of the author's life under three distinct headings. "Michael and I" describes the imaginative boy delaying amid the idle dreams of friendship; "Lord Richard and I" describes the young man active in political affairs; "My poor wife" describes one short year of rather stormy marriage and the death of the young wife with her first baby.
- *Swayne, Jos. Griffiths. Obstetric aphorisms. 8th ed. Phil., P. Blakiston, Son & Co., 1884. Il. 16°, cl., $1.25.

Wentworth's and Hill's exercise manuals, no. 3: Geometry. Bost., Ginn, Heath & Co., 1884. 27+180+48 p. D. cl., 80 c.

The exercises here given consist of a great number of easy problems for beginners, and enough harder ones for more advanced scholars. The exercises in each section are carefully graded, and some of the more difficult sections can be omitted without destroying the unity of the work. The book can be used in connection with any text-book on geometry, as soon as the geometrical processes of reasoning are well understood. A syllabus of geometry is given, not only for reference, but with a view of making the book by itself convenient for reviewing the study of geometry.

Winslow, Margaret E. Roderick Granger, the best fellow in the world. Phil., Presb. Bd. of Pub., [1884]. 285 p. il. S. cl., $1.

The hero is a bright, handsome boy of about thirteen, who has been indulged and allowed to do pretty much as he pleased by his fond parents; the result is he grows selfish and reckless, and a petty tyrant to his little sister; business calls the father to France, the mother accompanying him, and the children are sent to their uncle's farm in New Hampshire; here a new influence enters Roderick's life, and though he falls before many temptations and suffers many keen sorrows, his nature finally undergoes a radical change for the better.

Young, Alex. History of the Netherlands (Holland and Belgium). Bost., Estes & Lauriat, 1884. 2+672 p. il. O. cl., $3.

Although the heroic period of Netherland history has been brilliantly illustrated by Mr. Motley, yet the researches of Dutch and Belgian scholars have brought to light important facts which present some of the prominent personages and events of that period in a new aspect. This book, which is designed for mature as well as young readers, gives an independent view of these and of later annals, with the aids which European and American scholarship has furnished for their elucidation. While availing himself of the researches of Motley and Prescott, of Davies and Grattan, the author's judgments of men and measures are mainly derived from a study of original authorities. New light is thrown especially upon the character and career of William the Silent. Illustrated with many full-page pictures. A good index.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

OCTOBER 25, 1884.

THE PROHIBITION OF RAGS.

ON the 30th of August last, the Government took the extreme step of prohibiting, for three months from September 1, the importation of rags. The purpose was to guard against infection from cholera, then raging in Italy and in the south of France. The English Government had caused an examination to be made as to the danger of infection, and Sir Charles Dilke had reported to the House of Commons that in face of evidence that there were no cases of the spread of cholera by the importation of rags, he had not felt justified in ordering a prohibition of French rags in general, though he had denied admission to cargoes from the vicinity of Toulon and Marseilles. Our Government was not so cautious and wise, but prohibited all importation, even from such remote points as Russia. The result is that the holders of rags have been making the most of their opportunity, to the detriment of printers and publishers at large.

Business men would not question a sacrifice of their own interests in the face of great public danger. They would even support a stretch of authority in behalf of public safety, though it worked sad havoc to themselves. But no authority of law in justification of fact appears for this extreme action of the acting Secretary of the Treasury. It is a most dangerous precedent, aside from its immediate consequences. We add our protest, in the name of the publishing trade, to the several which have already been made against the Government's ill-considered action. A common-sense regulation ought to be enforced against rags from infected localities, and the prohibiting order ought to be revoked.

Since the above was put in type, the Government has taken the action desired, limiting the provision to infected (i.e. Mediterranean) ports. It is to be hoped the general protest will nevertheless prove useful as a bar to repetition of the original mistake.

THE paper-makers have meanwhile held a meeting to discuss this subject, and, in addition to protesting to the Government, have passed a resolution to curtail production as well. This, with our present lights, seems to be open to the same objection as the course of the Government—it is too sweeping. We are unable to see why there should be a "shut-down" on paper, for instance, that contains no rags, and we regret to see a movement which seems to take advantage of one wrong to make another.

OUR columns this week present another illustration of the need of international copyright. The "courtesy of the trade" has not usually, as we understand it, been held to cover importations, and yet when a work is produced by international arrangement, there is much to be said on both sides. It is certainly a good rule to seek—as it is stated was done in the instance in point—an understanding between the importers and American reprinter in cases like this; but there must always be misunderstandings and recriminations until a definite legal basis is reached.

THE PAPERMAKERS IN COUNCIL.

ABOUT 150 papermakers, representing the Eastern division of the American Papermakers' Association, met in the Metropolitan Hotel, in N. Y. City on the 23d inst., and protested against the three months' Government embargo on the importation of rags. The meeting was called to see if the members of the association favored "any action which will be of benefit to the trade in the present unsettled state of the rag and paper market, caused by a sharp advance in stock and a small proportionate advance in paper."

William H. Parsons, of N. Y. City, President of the Association, said that the action of the Treasury Department had increased the price of rags from 30 to 50 per cent. He had written personally to Acting Secretary Coon, and had been unable to get even an opinion as to whether the prohibition would continue longer than Dec. 1 next or not. It had not yet been shown, he claimed, that cholera or other contagious diseases had ever been spread by imported rags.

Augustine Smith, of New York, said that the prohibitory order of the Treasury Department had been a great injury to the papermakers and publishers in this country. When the order was issued he wrote to the Treasury Department for its authority, and had received in reply a copy of a letter sent to the department by Collector Robertson, and he had shown the answer he received to the lawyer of the association and to other legal men, and had been informed that it was no answer at all, and that there was no authority conveyed in it to prohibit the importation of rags or any other article. People have been led to believe, Mr. Smith argued, that there was absolute danger in importing foreign rags, while as a matter of fact there is no danger at all. When the cholera was in this country rags collected and taken to the mills had not spread the disease. Eminent European physicians had given assurance that there was no danger from this source. Sir Charles Dilke, in England, had recognized this fact, and refused to prohibit the importation of foreign rags.

Mr. Wellington Smith said that the Treasury Department had acted without informing itself. The question now was not simply one of raising the price of paper, but of wholly shutting down trade until the embargo was removed.

W. R. Sheffield, a manufacturer in Saugerties, N. Y., offered a resolution that the manufacturers curtail their production to fifty per cent of their output, and that the details be sent to the different divisions for arrangement. This met with some opposition, as it would injure manufacturers who did not use rags at all in making their paper. It was explained that the resolution was not authoritative, but simply voiced the sentiments of the meeting with regard to manufacturers using rags. The resolution was carried, and the special meeting adjourned to await the action of the committee.

REMOVAL OF THE PROHIBITION ON RAGS.

A DESPATCH dated Washington, Oct. 23, states that the customs division of the Treasury Department on that day issued a circular modifying the circular of August 30 concerning the importation of rags so as to limit it to infected ports only, and all Mediterranean ports are deemed infested ports within the meaning of this order. It is provided, however, that no old rags shall be landed at any port of the United States except on a certificate of the United States Consular officer at the point of departure that such rags were not gathered or baled at or shipped from any infected place or any region contiguous thereto.

INTERNATIONAL MAGAZINE COURTESIES.

From the Philadelphia Press.

WHILE Harper's and the Century Company are filling England with their magazines, it is no more than fair that England should send some of her representative periodicals to this country, and it is only a part of the game of turn-about that Cassell & Co., Limited, should publish two of their magazines with a special eye to the American market. The Magazine of Art has been published here for some years past, so that it is looked upon almost as an American periodical. The American edition has an American editor, who gives full American notes at the end of the magazine, and the body articles are international in their interest, and during the coming year they will be even more so. Quite recently Cassell's Family Magazine has been introduced to American readers, and has found almost instant favor. This magazine is sold for the absurdly low subscription price of one dollar and a half a year, which is so little for what is given in it that I don't see where the publishers get their money back, but I believe they are perfectly satisfied. It does not appeal to the same audiences as Harper's and the Century, but to a larger one, and I should not be at all surprised if it got as big a circulation here in time as it has in England, where I believe it outstrips all rivals in this matter. Cassell & Co. have another set of periodicals, which they have not introduced in America as yet; one of them, the Quiver, is the most successful semi-religious magazine in the world. It is an illustrated magazine "for Sunday and general reading," and its contributors are some of the best-known theologians of England; but it has stories and general articles as well, and I do not see why it should not find a big sale in this country, for it is well known here, and only wants to be introduced to become popular. This idea of an interchange of periodicals seems to me to be a very good one, because it makes the two countries better acquainted with each other.

THE INTERNATIONAL LITERARY ASSOCIATION.

THE following are the principal suggestions laid down by this society at its convention last month:

1. Authors placing themselves within the jurisdiction of the contracting countries will be afforded protection for their works, whether in print or manuscript, and will have all the advantages of the laws of the different nations embraced in the Union.

2. These privileges will be dependent upon the carrying out of the conditions and formalities prescribed by the legislation of the author's native country, or of the country in which he chooses to first publish his work, such country being, of course, one of those included in the convention.

3. These stipulations apply alike to editors and authors of literary works, as well as to works of art published or created in any country of the Union.

4. Authors within the jurisdiction of the Union will enjoy in all the countries the exclusive rights of translation of their works during a period of ten years after publication in any one country of the Union of an authorized translation.

5. It is proposed that it shall be made legal to publish extracts from works which have appeared in any country of the Union, provided that such publications are adapted for teaching or have a scientific character. The reciprocal publication of books composed of fragments of various authors will also be permitted. It will be an indispensable condition, however, that the source of such extracts shall at all times be acknowledged.

6. On the other hand, it will be unlawful to publish, without special permission of the holder of the copyright, any piece of music, in any collection of music used in musical academies.

7. The rights of protection accorded to musical works will prohibit arrangements of music containing fragments from other composers, unless the consent of such composer be first obtained.

The head office of the International Literary and Artistic Association will be established at Berne, in which town another Congress will assemble next year.

OBITUARY.

D. B. COOKE.

D. B. COOKE, formerly of the publishing house of W. B. Keen, Cooke & Co., of Chicago, died at his residence in that city yesterday. Mr. Cooke was a native of Ohio. His father died when he was still quite young, and at the age of twelve he secured a situation with W. W. Derby & Co., Cincinnati, publishers, remaining there until 1851, when he went to Chicago and started a bookstore on the site of the present Tremont House. Three or four years afterward he purchased the business and removed to No. 113 Lake St., where he opened one of the finest bookstores in the West. This was burned in 1856, and Mr. Cooke lost heavily. He started in business again, but soon gave it up and entered the employ of the American Express Company, where he remained six years. In 1866 he entered the publishing firm of S. C. Griggs & Co., Chicago, and three years later he formed a similar partnership with W. B. Keen, staying with him until the fire of 1871. About six years ago he returned to the employ of the American Express Company, where he remained until his death.

BUSINESS NOTES.

ABILENE, TEX.—Joseph Herr, bookseller and stationer, has been burned out.

AKRON, IND.—Milo Bright, bookseller, has sold out to Aaron Johnson.

CHESTERFIELD, (CHESTER HILL, P. O.,) OHIO.—C. A. Brewster, bookseller and stationer, has sold out to John Penrose.

DETROIT, MICH.—General W. A. Thorp, bookseller, was found lying in his store on Woodward Avenue, on the morning of October 1, with a bullet hole in his head.

HUMBOLDT, KAN.—C. Vail, bookseller, has sold out.

HUTCHINSON, KAN.—E. L. Meyer, bookseller, has sold out to G. W. Hodges.

LEXINGTON, MO.—W. B. Tate, bookseller and stationer, has sold out to Charles W. Loomis.

LINDSBURG, KAN.—Pearson & Swenson, booksellers, have dissolved partnership. Pearson & Eberhardt continue the business.

MITCHELL, DAKOTA.—L. O. Gale, bookseller, has been burned out.

MOUND CITY, KAN.—S. L. Ives, bookseller and stationer, has sold out to A. C. Pike.

OGDEN, UTAH.—Cannon & Volker, booksellers and stationers, have dissolved partnership. The firm is now Cannon & Sons.

NEW YORK CITY.—We have received a circular announcing the formation of The Mutual News Company, (limited.) The executive officers consist of G. F. Williams, president, Gardiner G. Howland, treasurer, and John F. Cowan, secretary; and the board of directors includes John W. Mackey, James Gordon Bennett, George Jones, George F. Williams, Gilbert E. Jones, Isaac Bell, Jr., Gardiner G. Howland, and John Townshend. The company, which claims to have $500,000 capital, has been incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, for the purpose of dealing in daily and weekly newspapers, monthly and semi-monthly magazines, and other publications, also books, stationery, and specialties of all kinds. Its principal office is at 54 Beekman St. Branch offices are to be established in all leading cities of the United States, Canada, and Mexico.

NEW YORK CITY.—F. E. Grant will remove to his new store, No. 7 West 42d St., on or about November 1 next.

RIDGEVILLE, IND.—S. R. Allen, bookseller and stationer, has sold out to M. D. Allen.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—The late firm of Billings & Pierson, (formerly Billings & Harbourn,) who made an assignment for the benefit of all creditors on Sept. 22, has been succeeded by Sidney L. Strickland, formerly of the firm of Wood and Strickland. Mr. Strickland has secured the entire assets of the old firm, stock, fixtures, and accounts, and has retained Mr. Pierson as his assistant. Mr. Billings, who has been for seventeen years an active member of the trade on the Pacific coast, has accepted a position with Hall Brothers, shipbuilders. The new concern starts out with most flattering prospects.

SILVER CITY, N. M.—A. Jeffery, bookseller and stationer, has removed to San Antonio, Texas.

SONORA, CAL.—H. L. Street, bookseller, is dead.

NOTES ON CATALOGUES.

JAMES BEALE, 719 Sansom St., Phila., has issued a convenient catalogue of books relating to the civil war, 1861-65, regimental histories, etc. (24 p., S.)

THE PILGER-BUCHHANDLUNG, Reading, Pa., have issued the third number of their Litteratur-Blatt, which contains an interesting article on starting a library for a Lutheran minister, in addition to the usual book lists and reviews of current theological literature.

FREDERIK MULLER & Co., Amsterdam, have issued an interesting "Catalogue d'une Collection unique de Dessins, Gravures, et eaux-fortes Composés ou Exécutés par des Femmes." The catalogue comprises 912 pieces of some of the best-known artists, including the work of a number of royal personages. (81 p., 4^o.)

SCRIBNER & WELFORD have been encouraged to issue another "Select List of Standard and Miscellaneous Works on Music and Musical Literature," including biographies of great artists and composers, musical dictionaries, histories of music, criticisms and essays, works on church and sacred music, theory, musical instruments, and on the voice and singing, together with a collection of rare and curious works upon musical subjects. The catalogue has been much enlarged and improved, and forms now, perhaps, as complete and varied a list of books on this subject as can be obtained. (32 p., 16mo.)

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE REFERENCE CATALOGUE OF CURRENT LITERATURE, of which this office is the American agent, may be expected positively next month.

THE Temperance Society of Paris offers a prize of 2000 francs for the best work on drinks, both temperance and alcoholic.

THE KETTERLINUS PRINTING HOUSE, Phila., has reduced the prices of Margaret Vandegrift's new books, "Little Belle" and "Absent-minded Fairy," to $2 each.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will have ready soon Prof. Max Müller's "Studies in Biography." They also announce for early issue Dr. Henry J. Van Dyke's "Reality of Religion."

THE MENNONITE PUBLISHING CO., Elkhart, Ind., have just issued a volume by Dr. Addison Darre Crabtree, entitled "The Journeys of Jesus," a valuable addition to biblical history.

CASSELL & Co. will publish "Italy, from the Fall of Napoleon I., in 1815, to the Death of Victor Emmanuel, (of Savoy,) first King of United Italy, in 1878," by John Webb Probyn.

G. W. CARLETON & Co. expect to issue very soon the "Recollections of Fifty Years among Authors and Publishers," by J. C. Derby, whose coming excites much interest in the trade.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have made arrangements with Lieutenant Shufeldt to publish a popular narrative of his adventures in Madagascar. The volume will be entitled, "The Land of Sinbad the Sailor," and will be handsomely illustrated.

GINN, HEATH & Co. will publish shortly an "Introduction to the Study of Language, being a Critical Survey of the History and Methods of Comparative Philology of the Indo-European Languages," by B. Delbrück, translated by E. Channing.

THE "Bulletin of the Mercantile Library of Philadelphia," for October, contains, in addition to the list of accessions, the first instalment of a bibliography of the "Dies Iræ" of Thomas de Celano, by John Edmands, who restricts his references almost exclusively to English works. The work is done with the thoroughness characteristic of all of Mr. Edmands's labors in this direction.

GINN, HEATH & Co. have published an "Addition Manual, by which Addition is Memorized, and the Sum or Difference of any two Numbers Known at Sight," by F. B. Ginn, a useful little manual; and Sophocles' "Antigone," edited upon the basis of Wolff's edition, by Martin L. D'Ooge, Professor of Greek in the University of Michigan, which forms one of the volumes of their College Series of Greek Authors, edited by Profs. J. W. White, of Harvard, and L. R. Packard, of Yale.

SMITH, ELDER & Co. will publish in four volumes the new translation of "Don Quixote," upon which the accomplished Spanish scholar, John Ormsby, has for some years been engaged. He has written a comprehensive introduction to the work, and has appended copious notes, together with an account of the chivalry romances which supplied Cervantes with the motive for "Don Quixote," and a bibliography which, it is hoped, will be found fuller and more accurate than any that has yet appeared.

THE AMERICAN BAPTIST PUBLICATION SOCIETY will issue this month "Brief Notes on the New Testament," the Notes on the Gospels, by Geo. W. Clark, D.D., and from the Acts to Revelation by G. M. Pendleton, D.D. It will contain, besides the text, with notes and reflections at the end of each chapter, necessary maps, a Harmony of the Gospels and an appendix, with various specially useful helps for Bible study. The whole will be issued in a neat, portable form on good paper, with clear type, making a handsome volume of 750 pp., 16mo.

D. APPLETON & Co. have in preparation "The Life and Teachings of Our Lord," in verse, being a complete harmonized exposition of the four gospels, with original notes, textual index, etc., by Abraham Coles, M. D. The work will consist of two volumes—volume one, "The Evangel," (which in this form is in its second edition,) and volume two, "The Light of the World." It will be published in two styles: one, two volumes in one (price, $2.50); the other in separate volumes, illustrated with thirty autotype copies of fine engravings, (price, $7.50.) They have also under way a volume entitled "The Money-makers," said to be in the nature of a reply to "The Breadwinners," and a new volume by G. J. Romanes, "Jelly Fish, Star Fish, and Sea Urchins," in the International Scientific Series.

CORRECTION.—R. Worthington desires us to call the attention of our readers to the fact that, owing to a slip of the pen, he was made to say something in his advertisement on page 576 of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, for which he would not like to be held responsible. What he meant to say was that he would pay a reward for such information as will lead to the conviction of any one reprinting, publishing, and offering for sale such reprint of his "Chatterbox" series.

Sterne's "Sentimental Journey."

THE edition of Sterne's "Sentimental Journey" announced by us has been reprinted from the standard English editions, great care being taken, in view of the discrepancies between them, to secure the most correct and authentic text. The illustrations have been reproduced from those of a French translation published in Paris. An English edition with the same illustrations having been printed abroad, the importer of a certain number of copies, styling himself "the joint protector and owner of the sole right for the English and American market," has thought fit to denounce our edition as "pirated."

We have imported numerous editions of foreign works, but have never imagined that this gave us any exclusive right of publication, and we have made no complaint when any of these works were reprinted by other publishers. Even under an international copyright treaty no such claim would be recognized as tenable. Our edition of the "Sentimental Journey" was printed before any announcement had been made that an English edition with the French illustrations was in contemplation, and in complete ignorance of the fact. On being informed of it, we offered to dispose of our edition—but this arrangement was declined by the "joint projector of the sole right," who has preferred to rely upon his grievance and an appeal to the sympathies of the public. The foregoing statement will suffice to show the baselessness of this appeal, and we need only add that but for our edition the opportunity of obtaining the work would have been limited to those who were able and disposed to purchase it at an exorbitant price.

"OXFORD"

TEACHERS' BIBLES.

"We have no hesitation in saying that, all things considered, the Oxford Teachers' Bibles are better for the Sunday-school teacher than any other with which we are familiar."—Sunday School Times.

"All things considered, we prefer the Oxford Teachers' Bibles to the London—and it is between these two that the choice is commonly to be made."—S. S. Times, Sept. 25, 1880.

"It is only fair to state that, in the light of later examination, we have seen no reason to change our expressed opinion that the Oxford Teachers' Bible is the most serviceable for the use of the ordinary Sunday-school teacher."—S. S. Times, Feb. 24, 1883.

Intending purchasers of "Oxford" Bibles should see that the books bought should have the Oxford imprint, thus:

"Meets most admirably the demand for carefully selected lists, and contains valuable and interesting counsel."—W. E. FOSTER.

"By far the best catalogue of books of this kind that has ever appeared."—S. S. GREEN.

"Deserves more extended praise than we have space for. It will bring joy to the hearts of hundreds of parents."—Nation.

"For them (the parents), as well as for librarians and teachers, the book will serve an excellent purpose, for it is by far the best guide that has been printed, and there is nothing in it that is not of excellent and interesting quality."—Boston Transcript.

"A little manual long needed. A classified list of good books is given, with indications as to the age and sex to which they are best suited. The list is prefaced by hints as to how children should be taught the right use of books, a note on good reading in English and American history for children, and a 'symposium' on children's books, containing interesting extracts from many sources. Miss Hewins may safely be accepted as an authority and guide by parents and buyers of children's books."—Good Literature.

Christmas

Catalogue.

ISSUED BY

[ALL ENTERPRISING BOOKSELLERS.]

The subscription edition of the ILLUSTRATED CHRISTMAS NUMBER of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY will be issued as early in November as possible, to give time for the imprint editions to reach all dealers three weeks before Christmas at the latest.

The Number will as usual present the finest specimen illustrations from the NEW HOLIDAY BOOKS, with special articles on the leading works, a full descriptive summary of books and stationery novelties, reference price-lists covering the ILLUSTRATED WORKS, BOOKS FOR THE YOUNG, and other CHOICE BOOKS published during 1884, etc., etc. Every endeavor will be made to surpass the issues of previous years, pronounced in 1880, by the N. Y. Tribune, one of the most tasteful and attractive catalogues, surpassing even the achievements of the English in the same line; and even at an earlier date, by the German "Book Trade Magazine" "the most attractive publication of the kind issued in the book-producing countries."

The imprint edition (intended for distribution by dealers with their sole imprint) will be printed immediately after the issue of the Trade edition, under the title of "CHRISTMAS CATALOGUE," as given above.

The local bookseller can add half as much again to his holiday trade by properly calling the attention of the public to his goods. For this purpose, the best means is the circulation of this handsome, interesting, and comprehensive CHRISTMAS CATALOGUE, which is received with pleasure by those to whom it is given or sent, as itself a picture-book of no little value; and its descriptions of and illustrations from books, at once arouse the desire to purchase the books themselves.

No better investment can be made by the bookseller who wants to make the most of his holiday trade.

Orders filled in the order of size of edition, largest first, and then of receipt. As the paper is specially made for this issue, orders should be received at once, as the filling of later demands cannot be guaranteed.

The thick paper edition of the CHRISTMAS CATALOGUE will be supplied as follows:

SINGLE COPIES (postpaid),	35 CTS.		PER 100 COPIES (with imprint),	$20 00
------------------------------------	---------	--	---	---------

The thin paper edition, with dealers' imprints, will be supplied at the following rates:

PER 100 COPIES,	$10 00		PER 500 COPIES,	$38 00
" 250 "	20 00		" 1000 "	75 00

Orders should be sent in at once, and in order to avoid delay, it is absolutely necessary that copy for imprint, together with full directions for forwarding, should accompany the remittance. All packages sent by express unpaid, unless other shipping directions are given.

NEW BOOKS JUST PUBLISHED.

Perseverance Island:

Or the Robinson Crusoe of the 19th Century, by DOUGLAS FRAZAR, author of "Practical Boat Sailing." 12mo, cloth. 16 Illustrations. $1.50.

It is not often that a book is published that can be said to be more interesting than the story of "Old Robinson Crusoe." PERSEVERANCE ISLAND, however, is just such a book. Its hero was almost a naked castaway on a desert island, with no resources left to him save skilful hands and brains filled with practical knowledge. Still, he succeeded in getting away from his inhospitable situation. The story tells how he did it, and all about the stirring experience which he had beforehand. The book is not extravagant, nor sensational.

By OLIVER OPTIC.

Square and Compasses:

Or, Building the Boathouse. Cloth, $1.25. Being the third volume of THE BOAT-BUILDERS' SERIES, to be completed in six volumes, of which are now ready. In this series Oliver Optic has taken a new departure, and is giving his readers lessons in mechanics, from practice in his own workshop, that are both entertaining and instructive, while the adventurous spirit in his books is allowed the same liberty as before.

By SOPHIE MAY.

Flaxie Growing up.

Cloth, illustrated, 75 cents. Completing the FLAXIE FRIZZLE STORIES, which are now issued, 6 volumes, in neat boxes, comprising:

Flaxie Frizzle. Little Pitchers. Miss Kittyleen.
Doctor Papa. Two Cousins. Flaxie Growing up.

Uniform with "LITTLE PRUDY STORIES," "DOTTY DIMPLE STORIES," "LITTLE PRUDY'S FLYAWAY."

By MARY LAKEMAN.

Pretty Lucy Merwyn.

By MARY LAKEMAN. Cloth, illustrated, $1.25. A story of girlhood from eighteen to betrothal.

All the features which go to make up a deeply interesting but wholesome story for young women are found in these pages.

BY THE SAME AUTHOR:

Ruth Eliot's Dream.

A New Edition now ready. Price $1.25.

Of this book Mr. JOHN G. WHITTIER wrote: "It is a charming story. It has a calm, deep, tender interest, not sensational, but holding the reader to its end."
